Txnic is pleased to announce the release of the single Something which is featured on Tdot Fiesta, Wheel It Studio's 5th album produced as part of an ongoing collective music recording initiative bringing together emerging and established hip hop artists.

With Something Txnic immerses the listener in a mesmerizing and trance-like reverie, recounting the difficulties of a past romantic relationship as he contends with a lack of reciprocity and the ultimate dissolution of the relationship. Addressing both interpersonal and communal love and connections, the song eventually shifts into a questioning of community impact and values that threaten to lead him astray. In Something Txnic reflects on how his music and his faith serve as a moral compass and tools for self-preservation that can prevent one from veering off course, ultimately guiding and directing one towards growth, spiritual fulfillment, and ethical self-actualization. Never giving up on his community, Txnic's message is one of spiritual upliftment and commitment to recognizing their collective potential and promise.

Something was arranged and produced by B1ackbandito, with sound engineering and mixing by Savilion.

The song features back up vocals and claps by Mc McWatch, Rez Made, Tracey Kayy, Leroy Esco, S!sha, Pudgegawd, Aléja, Txnic, Baya Baby, POTD, Beny Esguerra, Zakisha Brown, Lyrical Flips, Jay Rebel, Melissa Redsky, Paul 'Savilion' De Francesco, and Selah you did that?

Raised in Kingstown, Saint Vincent, Txnic is a versatile Toronto-based artist who blends Hip-Hop, Jazz, and R&B into smooth, soulful compositions exploring profound themes through a nuanced lens. His rhythmic and elegant musical fusion carries deep emotional weight and is characterized by mellow and skillful arrangements. Txnic's thought-provoking lyrics address societal issues and inner truths with sensitivity and insight. The true intentions of his emotionally resonating songs are to uplift, unify and spark positive change.

Txnic has accumulated over 10k streams across platforms and has been featured on Vibe 105 FM and CityTV. He has headlined various shows and performed at venues like the Royal Ontario Museum and Nathan Phillips Square and for organizations such as Unity Charity and Urban Arts. A lifelong learner, he is dedicated to seeking out opportunities to grow and elevate himself as an artist.

Txnic graduated from Canada's Music Incubator program in 2017 and earned a Music Business Certificate with Honors from Humber College in 2021. A member of the Wheel It Studios program that was recently nominated for the International Indigenous Hip Hop Music Awards' Inspirational Social Change Award, Txnic mentors youth and demonstrates a commitment to community empowerment while continuing to master the intersection of artistic excellence, political consciousness, and social justice.
